

Brevard Academy: A Challenge Foundation Academy has the option to use North Carolina Virtual Public Schools to offer high school-level courses. This platform will be used to offer courses when the following criteria are met:

- The school faces difficulty finding a highly qualified candidate to teach the course.
- The course is part of a current academic subject taught at Brevard Academy.

Students enrolling in North Carolina Virtual Public Schools must meet the following criteria:

- Students must be on grade level in all core academic subjects.
- Students must be recommended by their teachers to take the course.
- Students must meet any specific requirements for class placement as detailed in other school policy.
